Rezoning Request Has Been Approved by Town Authorities in Fair Bluff, North Carolina to Allow Development of New Wild-Cat Rescue Operation:

Approval continues to progress to make way for a new wild-cat rescue non-profit being planned for the Columbus County town of Fair Bluff, NC. Town authorities have recently approved the rezoning needed to make possible the new “Shizzy’s Wildcat Rescue” planned for the prime downtown site of the former Fair Bluff FORD dealership at 658 Main Street, property generously donated by Fair Bluff Motors, Inc. and Capital Investments of Fair Bluff, Inc.

This location is in the heart of the economically-challenged region of North Carolina recently devastated by the massive floods experienced from Lumber River during the heavy rains of Hurricane Mathew in 2016. With the combined efforts of the Columbus County Economic Development Commission and the Columbus County Jobs Foundation, this unique business has been able to move ahead with plans to develop what is hoped to become a popular tourist attraction, as well as, vital large cat rescue non-profit operation.

“Our law firm saw the need for expert 501(c)(3) and real estate legal counsel in such a matter as this and were absolutely thrilled to step in and help Shazir make this dream possible for an area of NC needing a financial boost”, says attorney Nancy Guyton of the law firm of Kincaid & Associates.

“Shazir Haque is currently operating rescue efforts out of Greensboro. He’s also traveled throughout the United States to work with big cats, lesser cats, bears and wolves, but this new location seemed like a real win-win for his vital non-profit’s needs and the needs of the people of Columbus County trying so desperately to revive their economy in Fair Bluff, plus, who doesn’t love tigers and lions?”, added Ms. Guyton.
